Are you a licensed Texas attorney who has received a Notice of Complaint from the Chief Disciplinary Counsel's office at the State Bar of Texas? Are you currently under investigation for alleged professional misconduct? Are you wondering whether to have your Complaint heard before a Texas state bar evidentiary hearing panel or a State District Court? If you are found to have violated the Texas Rules of Professional Conduct, are you aware of the differing sanctions that the State Bar can impose and the factors that are used to determine the appropriate sanction? Are you worried about how to keep your law practice moving forward while facing a grievance or complaint process? If you answered yes to any of these questions (or at the very least, you're curious about how to best protect your law license from a potential future attack), then this presentation is for you.

Speaker: Tony R. Bertolino, Austin, TX
